

ESG Risk Assessment Solution

Unlock and prioritise risks across your value chain

The challenge

In today's complex global marketplace, hidden environmental and social risks in your supply chain can rapidly escalate into business-critical issues. Many organisations struggle with:

- Blind spots: What social and environmental risks exist across your operations and value chain? How much visibility do you have over your suppliers? Do you know their locations, the working conditions on-site, or the carbon footprint associated with their processes and services?
- Prioritisation dilemmas: Where should you focus your sustainability efforts to maximise impact and optimise resource utilisation?
- Stakeholder demands: How do you build a compelling business case and respond to board inquiries?
- Disclosure pressures: How do you determine what truly matters for your business?
- Peer insights and competitive positioning: How does your approach compare with industry peers and best practices, and how can their insights strengthen your strategy and business case for sustainability?
